Potential Questions/Comments:

1. Grace noticed what was unusual about the list of presidents. Do you think anyone else in her class noticed? Had you ever noticed this before?
2. We may have a female president soon. What do you think about this? What do your friends/family/teachers think?
3. Do you think a female president can do everything a man can? Are there any ways that they can do things better or worse? Why or why not?
4. If Grace was president, she would be a female AND Black president - we haven't had one of those yet. Do you think we will? When? Who?
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____

Continuing the Conversation

What makes Grace unique as a presidential candidate? Do you think that it would be harder to run as a Black female? What about an Asian female? Muslim female? Atheist female? How would all of these things impact someone's ability to become president? Would they? Should they? Have any of your friends talked about a woman being nominated for president? Does anyone think she shouldn't be just because she is female? Has anyone said this outright or implied it? How did others react? Did you say anything? Why or why not?
